

Minors in the School of Environmental and Forest Sciences

Environmental Science and Resource Management Minor

The Minor in Environmental Science and Resource Management offers students majoring in a wide range of subjects exposure to the challenges facing terrestrial ecosystems, including their conservation and restoration. Course work will provide a solid foundation for links to other fields of biology, environmental education, journalism, and public affairs.

Minor Requirements: At least 25 ESRM credits, 20 of which must be upper division. 5 credits from BSE and lower division ESRM courses.

Ecological Restoration Minor

The minor in ecological restoration seeks to prepare students to address the complex relationships of human communities and ecological sustainability. The minor is a tri-campus initiative (UW Bothell, UW Seattle, and UW Tacoma). Students may, but are not required to, take courses from more than one campus in order to earn the minor. For more information on this minor, visit the website:
